Peace & Joy,

The Question Is:

Many changes have taken place this year the major one being the addition of the Freshmen class to the student body. With this change there was an overwhelming increase in population, which affected our everyday lives and habits. Whether waiting to buy lunch, finding a seat at an assembly, or just trying to get to our lockers, there was always the crowd or the question of whether we would all fit. In time, however, we managed to overcome the doubts, with a little pushing and shoving along the way.

Not only the student body, but the faculty has also been affected by the changes. Twenty-two new teachers have been added to accommodate the academic and elective courses needed to uphold the high standards.

In spite of half of the students being new to the high school, we pulled through all of the tasks and challenges to prove that nothing can stop us.

Will We All Fit?

Red Is Rad

1. Football players wear their red C.P.H. football sweaters and lettermen jackets.
2. Only Sammy's hairdresser knows for sure about her Castle Park red hair.

3. Mr. Jessen shows spirit by dressing in red and showing off his Homecoming pep ribbon.
4. Even the Alumni get into the action by wearing red for the Homecoming assembly in the gym.

It all starts with Thursday's bulletin: "Wear RED Tomorrow." Everyone knows that means they had better get their acts together, and dig out that favorite red shirt, or maybe those fancy red slacks. Red on Friday is a Trojan tradition.

This year the A.S.B. tried to encourage even more participation in this tradition by awarding prizes to some students who were wearing red at the pep assemblies. With four classes in the gym at once, not only was there lots more noise, but also a lot more RED.

1. Stripes are in — but only if there are some red ones like those Nicky Santos is wearing.
2. All shades of red are allowed. Hector and Mark show us a couple.
3. Red from the top down is how Jeri Forbes shows her spirit.
4. Dr. Bane and Mr. Rogers let us know that red is a favorite of the administrators, too.
5. Dr. Keiser is sure he has a red shirt for his first Friday at Troy.

Trojans Come of Age: Celebrating 21 Years

Like many other years, the 1983 Homecoming was one of tradition and memories. However, it was different in the sense that there was a greater amount of spirit and excitement as well as involvement in the week's festivities.

On Friday, October 28, the class of 1964 celebrated their 20 year reunion by attending the pep assembly at which the first A.S.B. President spoke of the pride and honor of being a Trojan. Thereafter, they attended a reception in the cafeteria for all alumni.

Later that evening, the crowd grew restless about who would be the Homecoming Queen of 1984. The five candidates were: Lorena Ayala, Lety Cordero, Edwina Gonzales, Patty Guzman, and Lisa Rodriguez. As each candidate was escorted by her father down the field, she was graciously honored by golden flares shot overhead, causing the tension to increase among friends and families. At last — it was announced that our new Homecoming Queen was Edwina Gonzales. Following that, there was a spectacular display of fireworks throughout the sky.

To culminate the successful festivities, there was the tremendous 29-9 victory of the Trojan Football team over the Bonita Vista Barons.

BV Pepleaders. Male faculty impersonates the Baron cheerleaders at the assembly.

More is Merrier. Pep Club gets ready for cheering after their pizza picnic.

Our Symbols Show Our Spirit

This year at Troy Tommy Trojan and Helen of Troy are Scott Oson and Carmella Juan. Both of them appear at CPH assemblies and football games in their costumes. Our mascots show and share with others their pride and spirit for Castle Park High. We will always remember them as spirited and enthusiastic individuals.

1. Carmella Juan, Helen of Troy.
2. Scott Oson, Tommy Trojan.
3. The Trojan Chariot brings Tommy and Helen to the center of the Homecoming festivities.

ASB Upholds Pride and Unity

1. Secret pals decorate lockers to encourage our football team to victory.
2. Clever signs show Trojan pride is alive and well at C.P.H.
3. The fans show their spirit by displaying the Trojan victory sign at football games.
4. Trojans show pride and spirit by cheering our team on.

Trojanettes Strive for

Perfection and Excellence

Freshmen Trying

1. Another first. The year was full of firsts for Roger Apodaca and Robert Aland. Attending the very first football game and being a part of the crowd was exciting for them.

2. Variety Pack. This year's freshmen come in all shapes and sizes. Mahlon Williams and Joe Benedito show us some variation in size.
3. Finding their own space. Warned to stay away from the senior walk, this group finds their own place to hang out during the lunch break.

The freshmen at Castle Park High agree that this year has been both challenging and fun. There were moments of embarrassment when they were lost on the campus. Then there were those moments of excitement and expectation when they watched that first kick-off.

To Fit in at Troy

The addition of both freshmen and sophomores this year meant more than half of the students were new to the campus. This situation created many uncertainties for us all. Now, a year is behind us, and we're sure the Class of '87 made CPH a greater place to be.

1. Slow moving. Freshmen make the lines so long that for everyone the line meant a continuous wait.
2. Avoiding the rush. Joy Johnson finds it easier getting to her locker before everyone else, but wonders why the lockers are so high.

3. Special Treatment. Being a part of the band, the freshmen learn the disadvantage of being dismissed last after band practice.

Bunches of Lunches

Typically lunchtime at Troy is a time for relaxation, talking with friends, or eating a leisurely lunch. This year provided some new challenges, however. One challenge was to not starve to death before you got to the window after waiting in the enormously long line. Then, of course, there was the opportunity to stand up and eat, because all of the tables and benches were full. Sometimes sitting under a tree was the best bet.

1. Lucky Lunchers. Ricky Gonzales and his pals find a table, so they can sit down to eat. Food digests better that way!
2. Apple a day. It's a hard place to sit during lunch, but maybe Linda Jimenez's apple will make up for that.
3. Shady shake. Sitting under a tree at lunch, Margarita Gonzales sips her strawberry malt and tries not to share it with the ants.
4. Balanced box. The cafeteria makes a valiant effort to ensure a balanced lunch, even if it comes in a box.
5. Munchie mixture. what you buy for lunch often depends on which line, the ASB or the cafeteria, is shorter.

Senior Academics, 1984:

There didn't appear to be time for the Senior Slump. The seniors were too busy working on World Literature, College Prep, and their Government classes. Those three courses were offered exclusively for seniors this year.

World Literature involved reading and writing poetry, short stories, and essays. College Prep consisted of perfecting grammar and writing an "impossible" term paper. In government class we had to take notes from Mr. Wallace's lectures, and keep up to date on current economic affairs and political developments.

1. Baumgarten's Brain Storm. In College Prep class Debbie Castro asks a question about the essay on poetry. Hope Solano discusses the latest pun.
2. Pedestal Person. Mrs. Baumgarten frequently uses her podium for lectures, which can help spark a student's interest and understanding.
3. Worldly Words. By extracting thoughts and ideas from authors and writers of the past and present, Mrs. Guilfoyle gives us knowledge and understanding of our English language and heritage.
4. Members Only. Just seniors who are planning to attend college spend time in Room 609 with Mrs. Baumgarten. At times this exclusive group wonders if that term paper will ever materialize.
5. Green in Government. Mr. Wallace molds the seniors, political rookies, into the productive citizens and leaders of the closing decade.
6. Literature Lessons. Mrs. Guilfoyle's intellectual candor and charm motivate seniors to implement their ideas on paper.

5. Secretary, Irene Aguayo
6. Treasurer, Arthur Alvarez
7. Tuning In. With 9IX in hand, Lani De Cayo is all grabs for pizza, a favorite lunch food.
8. Bench buddies. Some times are best spent with friends along the Senior Walk. Tony Gomez will miss this hangout next year.

"GRADUATION DAY"

G reat are all our memories of high school years gone by,
R ight from when we first came here and met each gal and guy.
A t first we were a timid group, but soon we all came through,
D espite a few unfruitful trys, we've kept our goal in view.
U ndying's been our patriotic feeling toward our school —
A thletic feats where we would cheer, our Trojans was brought to view
T the Junior and the Senior Proms — remember all the fun,
I ncluded in these memories is our accreditation.
O f course we can't forget the plays that we enjoyed so much,
N or all the other happy days that value cannot touch.

D elighted are we with this day that now is almost here,
A nd though it means that we must part, we hold our mem'ries dear —
Y esterdays and friends we made through all our high school years.

For the Varsity Volleyball team, the year was one of experience and determination. Although their season was not filled with wins, they managed to achieve unity and dedication. This was a very important part of team spirit, because it gave them an opportunity to learn and work together toward a common goal.

1. Varsity Team. Top Row: Rachel Castillo, Kathy Stopani. 2nd Row: Iliana Ramirez, Patty Guzman. 3rd Row: Rosie Vera, Maria Segura, Luz Barron, Tabatha Lincoln, Laura Inzunza.
2. Say Cheese. An essential part of every team is the coach. This year's team has been fortunate to have the guidance and support of Miss Toni Wood.
3. Hoping. Kathy Stopani hoping she can save that ball before it hits the floor.
4. On The Spot. There's a tense moment in the game, when all eyes are on Patty Guzman.
5. Teamwork. Together, Iliana Ramirez and Luz Barron work at setting up the ball for a dazzling spike of a performance.
6. Super Strength. By slamming the ball over the net, Kathy Stopani saved the ball for an impressive score.
7. Anxiously Awaiting. Luz Barron gets ready to give a spike.

JV Teams in Training

Which way? In the game with Southwest, Tina Garcia appears to be confused about which direction is the best one to take.

1. Jumping high. Michelle Pepp is trying to knock the ball out of her opponent's hand. Her teammates are ready to take the ball to score.
2. Pre-game prep. The team is warming up before the game by practicing their shots.
3. Up for two. Tammy Brown tries a jump shot. Many different shots are necessary for any one game.

Bitch

Striving for a Score!

High anxiety. Reaching great heights, a Trojan cager goes up for two points.

For the varsity basketball team, it was a season of determination and courage. Despite very few wins, the girls managed to improve their skills of playing the game. With the advantage of a young team, the many returning members will add to the newly-developed abilities next year.

Up for grabs. After a jumpshot, Elizabeth Bustamante struggles for a chance at the ball.

Here's the plan. During half-time, Coach Jackie Foss advises a new strategy for the coming quarter.

Two for us. There's no doubt about this score for Troy.

Hands off. Furiously, Stephanie Boggs blocks the opposing team from a chance to score two.

Israel,

FEATURES

He-Man, Master of Troy

On Thursday, March 8, 1984, the festivities for the week of Big Man On Campus began. By their relaying through an obstacle course, modeling their bathing suits, and bobbing for apples in Jello, we all became acquainted with the five candidates and who would best fit the position. The five candidates were: Danny Holmes, Guy Liggins, Butch Matthews, Jorge Reyes, and Jimmy Wood.

During the week-long festivities, there was the opportunity for both guys and girls to switch roles. The males had the chance to be part of the cheerleading squad or the Trojanette drill team.

Congratulations to the seniors who defeated the underclassmen with a score of 14-0. Finally at the dance on Wednesday, March the 14th, it was announced that Butch Matthews was Big Man On Campus for 1984.

Hang in there. As part of the competition, Danny Holmes munches away at a powdered doughnut.

Cute quartet. By impersonating the Trojanettes, Ken Hooker, Art Meredith, Luis Lozoya, and Fernando Ferreira add to the BMOC spirit.

Proud as a peacock. In their short skirts the male cheerleaders form a difficult and incredible peacock stunt.

King for a day. When all of the battling and balloting was over, Butch Matthews was crowned at the dance.

Week of Wits!

Sis-boom-ba! At the Powderpuff game Albert Vera is all hyped up with spirit for the senior class.

Don't squeeze the Charmin'. After showing his talents in hopscotch, Jorge Reyes must wrap Lorena Ayala with toilet paper as part of the obstacle course.

Mucho macho! During a contestant interview at the BMOC assembly, Guy Liggins describes himself as "macho".

1. Taking it to the top. Mahlon Williams, forward, goes high to make the jump shot.
2. Versatile veteran. Not only does Phillip Brown play football, he also races for the track team at Troy.

Athletic Assortment

3. Breaking through. Troy's mighty team makes its re-entrance after half-time ceremonies.

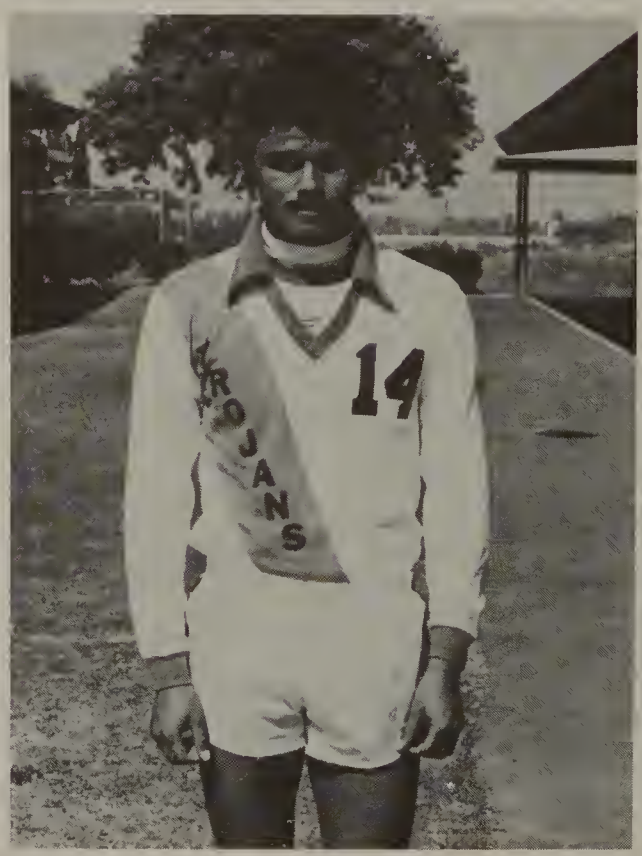
In his first year at Troy Mahlon Williams made a name for himself, playing well enough to earn a spot on the varsity basketball team, while most of his classmates spent a year on the JV team. Mahlon was consistently among the league leaders in points and rebounds. His playing was partly responsible for Troy's team winning a play-off berth this season.

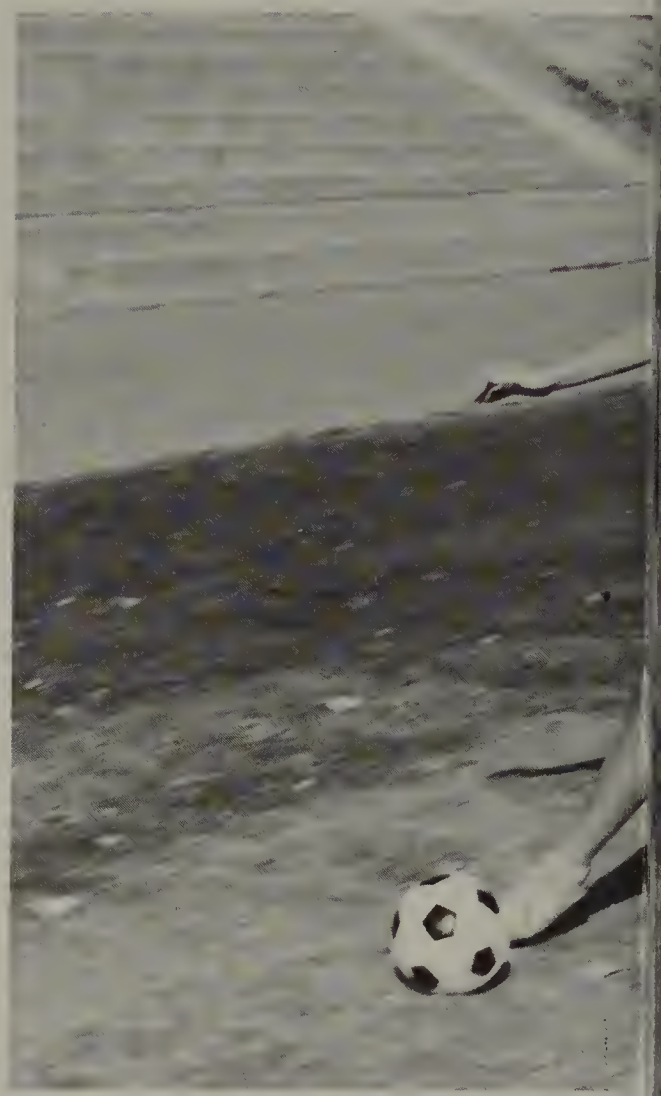
Senior, Miguel Solorio, is a three-year veteran on the Trojan soccer team. He has been playing soccer for over ten years. Miguel sums up his job as center forward by saying, "My job is to score goals." Miguel's favorite memory of Troy soccer is the 81-82 season when the team advanced to the CIF semi-finals, before falling to LaJolla. We may someday see Miguel on a professional soccer team.



Shining Sports Stars

A big figure in the spotlight, standing 6′2″, is senior, Guy Liggins. A superlative athlete, Guy excells in football, basketball, and track. A two-year wide receiver in football, he was named to the Star News All-Metro team both years. On the basketball team he played power forward, and was instrumental in the team's going to the play-offs. Next year it's off to college to play football — and get an education.

Sporty



1. When the time comes for soccer season, Malia McMillan always is a part of the girls' team. Malia shows a great deal of dedication and interest in the sport. She has been on the team for two years.

3. This year's volleyball spotlight shines on the face of Tabatha Lincoln. Tabatha says about volleyball, "I think it's real fun, and I enjoy it a lot." Tabatha has only been on the varsity team for one year, but hopes to continue next year.

Superstars

2. Although Nora Amaro has suffered with bruised toes and a sprained ankle, she will always love running. This is her second year on the cross country and track teams. Nora says, "I love everything about running — except Coach Girder's workouts."

4. Luz Barron is an active person here at Castle Park. Basketball is the sport she enjoys the most, but she also plays volleyball. Practices take most of her time, but since she enjoys it so much, she doesn't mind.

5. Whether it's the softball field or the volleyball court, you will find Laura Inzunza there. She was the sweeper on the soccer team also this year. Laura is proud to contribute to Troy's fine teams.

In Between the Fashion Scene

1. Dressed to impress. Wearing a casual pair of pants, pink shirt, and white tie, Dennis Manly models the newest men's fashions.
2. Can-can girls. In between the fashion scenes these can-can girls added a little kick to the show.
3. Puttin' on the Ritz. Buddy Ellsworth is making a good impression for that special someone.

Lights dim while people still wander about the audience looking for seats. Meanwhile, backstage models dab on a little extra make-up and examine their outfits in the mirror. Finally the lights go out and the audience applauds in anticipation. The spotlight is now on the stage. The excitement is felt in the air at the annual Fashion Show.

The Fashion Show is a creation of Mrs. Gagnon's French classes. She selects students to appear in the show. The students are to furnish their own outfits. It is a lot of work finding costumes to wear and to do all of the rehearsing, but the 1984 Fashion Show upheld the tradition of success.

Dressed to kill. This pink satin semi-formal worn with white heels and gloves is displayed by Claudia Lopez.

Troy's Talented Ones

1. Space odyssey. Michael Tomlinson conjures up an unusual vision of the future.

2. Shaded shapes. As an exercise in shading and aerial perspective, students are asked to draw these four geometric forms.

3. Oil slick. This painting by Kevin Lind of an ocean wave is done in oil on canvas. Kevin's inspiration is a photograph in a magazine.

1. Picture Perfect. Imagination should not be kept inside oneself. Joaquin Flores shares his talent with this beautiful scene.
2. Splash down. Beauty is in the eye of the beholder. John Anderson puts oil on canvas to show how beautiful the ocean can be.

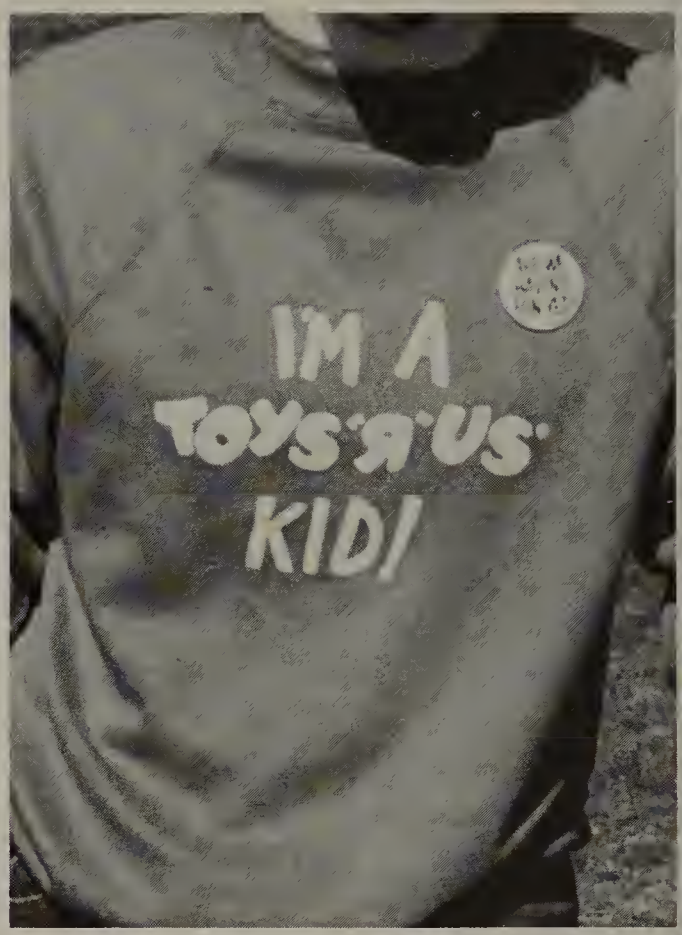
Get

Kid stuff. This year everyone wants to be a Toys "R" Us kid. Wearing a sweatshirt is one of the ways to do that.



Playtime. Our mothers remember when everyone wanted a Barbie doll. This year the Cabbage Patch kids are winning the hearts of even the most mature of high schoolers.

Picturesque plastic. A common sight today, plastic purses have caught the eyes of almost every girl on campus.

Radical couple

Leather look. Everyone probably has some leather in his wardrobe. Danny Agahan shows that his leather collection is quite extensive. Stacy Kozachenko

Dearest . 1984 6/7/84

It was great having you in second period. I will hope you meet some cute guys over the summer and hopefully you will get a girlfriend. Stay cool and don't let the beach and party heavy. Hopefully I'll meet your bro the summer. See you next year!

Love,

WHERES THE BEEF

With It

Synthetic shoes. '84 saw the plastic age go into the world of shoes.

Today's tails. Ten years ago girls were wearing pony tails. Today we see tails of a different sort, and we also find they are just about as popular with guys as they are with girls.

Equal rights. This year equal rights went as far as guys wearing earrings.

The Spirit of Office party. The pride and spirit of Troy always shine through in the ASB Office on the holidays.

Santa's elves. Kelly Renner and Natalie Ward are just two of Santa's helpers who came to visit Troy.

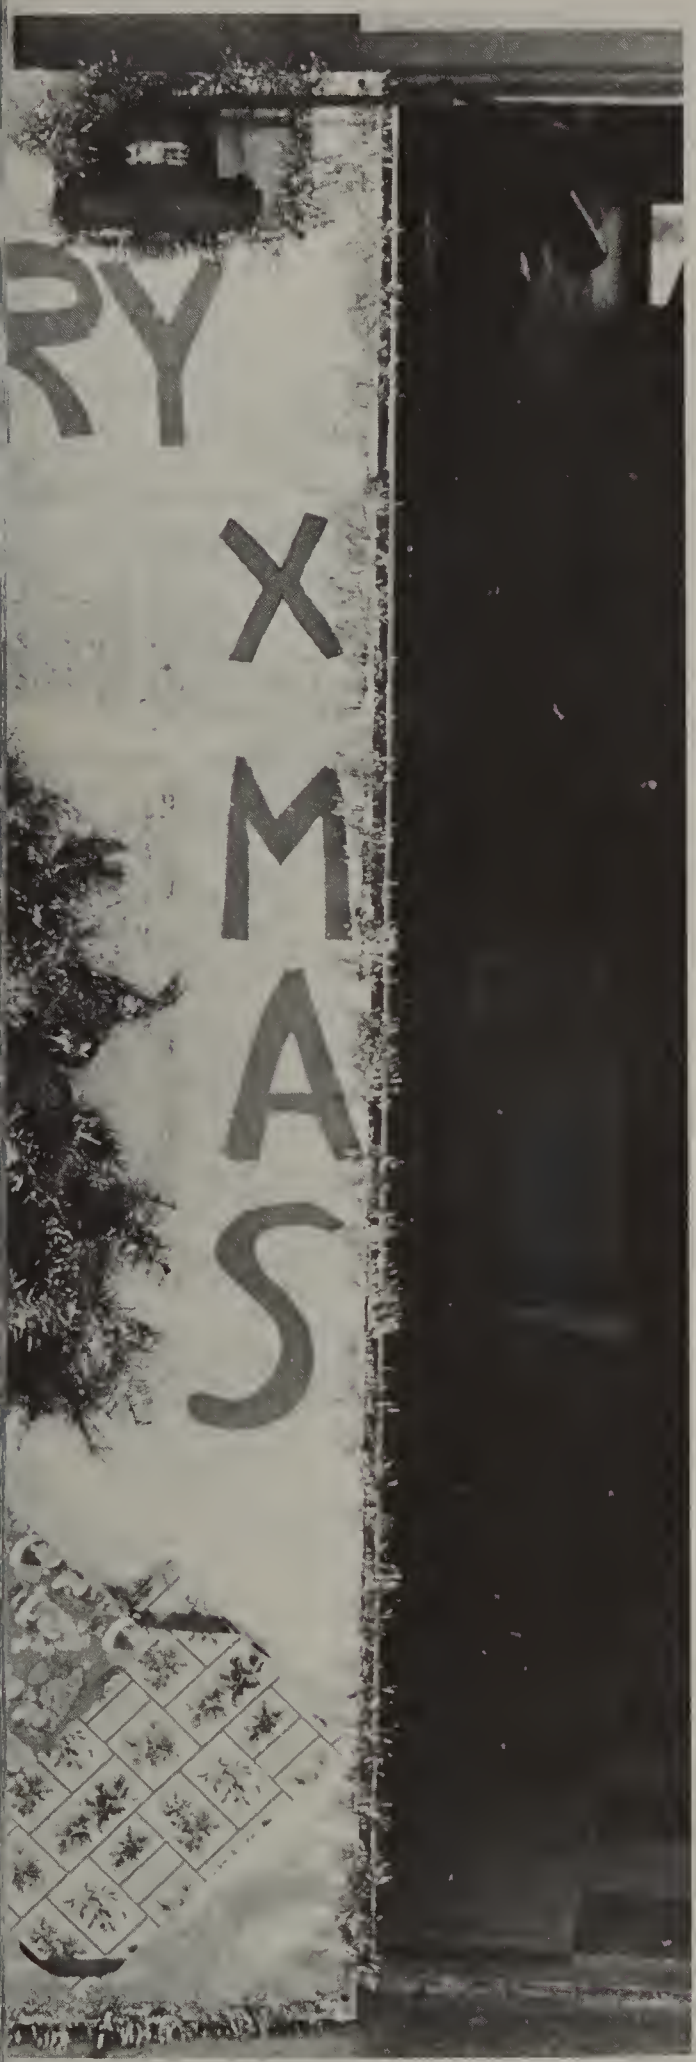
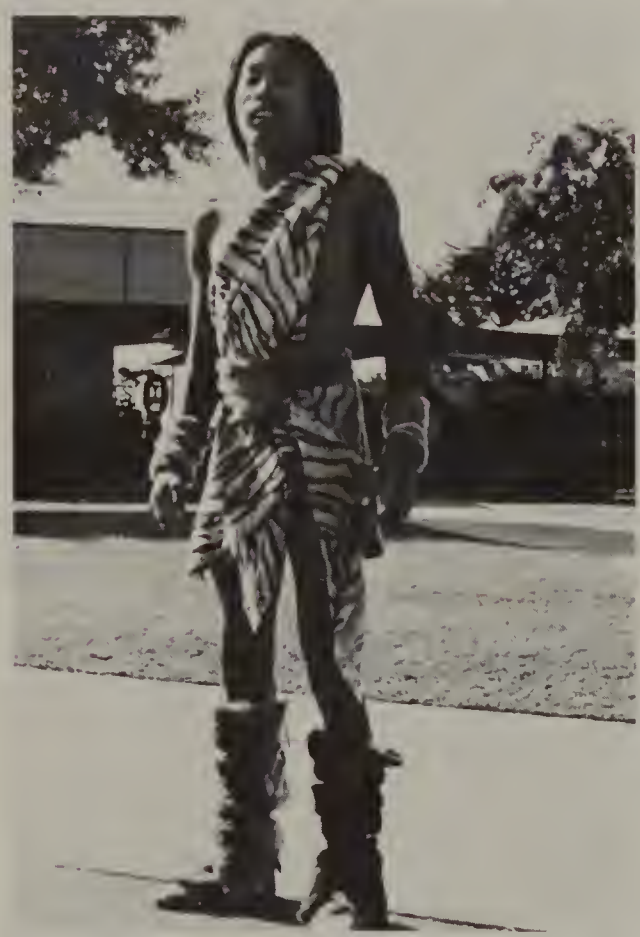
Holidays Present



Santa's selection. Members of the ASB provide Santa with a variety of stockings to fill. Mr. Rindone has the biggest one.



The savage look. On Halloween Scott Oson decided to let everyone see the tiger in him.

Nine lives. After eating that doughnut from our cafeteria Yvonne Sylva may only have eight lives left.

If you're into collecting bugs, dissecting frogs, or poking at the insides of a squid, chances are there's bound to be a course in science that will strike your fancy. The year-long laboratory classes offered here are Biology, Chemistry, and Physics. If a semester class is what you want, classes available are Life Science, Physical Science, and Oceanology.

Most students will take these classes in order to satisfy some college requirements, but others will take them for their own special interests. Students do fun projects such as cell models, experiments, and readings. They also learn terminology and interesting facts in these classes.

All in all, many Castle Park students will agree that although the work may get a bit strenuous, science can be a rewarding experience.

Laboratory Labors

1. A Closer Look. While in Oceanology, Cathy Thompson and Nadine Jacobs struggle to locate the currents on a pilot chart.
2. Have A Heart. In Life Science, Paula Villalobos learns the locations and functions of specific parts of the human body.
3. Bon Appetit. Aside from bug collections, Biology students work on classifying animals into proper Phyla and families.
4. Let's Get Physical. Sophomore Louis Viscarra, demonstrates the combination of baking soda and water in Physical Science.
This was one lab assignment which demonstrated chemical reactions.
5. H_20+NaC1=. Before any chemicals are combined, Sandra Aguayo must weigh the substances to be sure she has the right amount.

1. Sexy stud. Popular on the screen is John Travolta. In the past year he has appeared in "Staying Alive" and "Two of a Kind."
2. Smart investment. On dollar night, Patty Vargas gets an early start to beat the crowds before sell-outs.
3. Decisions, decisions. With so many choices, Christina Ruiz has a hard time choosing which movie to watch.
4. Classified Choices. For publicity, many theatres advertise in local newspapers.
5. Flashdance fever. The movie Flashdance was one of the biggest movies this year. Many people enjoyed the movie because of the dancing and music.

4. "TERMS OF ENDEARMENT"
5. "ALL THE RIGHT MOVES"

Whether Dollar Night or any night, students can be seen waiting in line to see their favorite movie. Some great ones this year are "Flashdance," and "Staying Alive." In addition to the six theatres at Plaza Bonita, twelve other theatres are now available in our area. Six are in the Sweetwater Plaza, and the other six are on Third Avenue (U A 6). These new theatres have provided students at Castle Park with variety and convenience.

Days of Our Lives

Comic concert. "Free Fare" does a superb job of imitating "General Hospital" at an assembly before their concert.

No free time. Soap operas may be a major cause of truancies at Troy. The lure of the soaps is too much for some of us to resist.

Variety — the Spice of Reading references. The new reading labs on campus provide the students with many choices of references. Dictionaries still abound, but the R.F.U. kit is a new alternative.

Two's company. While Martina Huertas works at a Skim & Skan lab, which deals with speech information and general comprehension, Marie Davisson looks to a friend for help.

Hear! hear! Guided listening deals with comprehension and thinking. Diana Tomlinson demonstrates for us.

After those long weeks, we all look forward to weekends. Whether sleeping late, watching television, or going out with friends, it's time to ourselves. Many students make the most of it by going to the beach, or shopping. Others spend it working, doing homework, or playing a challenging game of tennis.

1. Time for two. During their weekend, Ricky DeJesus and Melinda Juan set time aside to be together.
2. Out of luck. While everyone is relaxing, Theresa Philips spends her Saturday afternoon working at the Otay Community Clinic.
3. Saturday spree. After a long day of shopping, Carmella Juan shows off her new sweater to a friend, Arlene Joya.
4. Tennis anyone? On a sunny Sunday, Rita Navarra anxiously hopes to find a tennis partner.
5. Secluded thoughts. At the beach, Nitzie Joya takes time to appreciate her free time away from the hectic school work.

For many students, music makes their world go round. Whether it's new wave, rock, or soul, many lives are influenced by the different sounds and beats.

A new era in music is videos. Even on television today, there are channels dedicated to promoting popular artists and their interesting routines to music. Music Television (MTV), which presents all different types of music, is the most popular.

Presently, the record industry makes millions of dollars selling and producing records, posters, and buttons of the many groups and singers.

We are all fortunate to have the popular and well-liked sounds of the '80's.

1. Take your pick. A big seller is magazines. The contents contain pictures and the words to songs by popular groups.
2. Tuning in. During 6th period, Rueben Vazquez listens to his favorite music on his one and only "walkman."
3. Heck of a thriller. The album, "Thriller", by Michael Jackson is a part of the record collection of many. His album contains 5 songs which were nominated for Grammy awards.
4. T-Shirt trend. To show their favorite types of music, many students wear shirts publicizing their taste in sounds.
5. Video view. In between homework assignments, Claudia Lopez manages to take in a few minutes of her favorite videos on MTV.

Troy's Bank Account

Through Bingo games, the Trojan Foundation intends to raise money for academic programs and extracurricular activities. The Trojan Foundation Committee is made up of four faculty members and two students from our campus. The members are (Chairman) Mr. Swift, Dr. Bane, Mr. Rindone, Ms. Guilfoyle, Ron Nepomuceno, and Clarissa Perez. The committee decides how the money is to be spent. The bingo games are held in our campus cafeteria. They are open to the public. The games are year-round, starting on March 20, 1984. They are administered by 41 parents and teachers. We, the students, look forward to a successful year money-wise.

1. Ready for a Game. Bingo games are the major way that money will be raised for the Foundation.
2. Bingo Announced. The marquee is used to advertise the first bingo games.

Acting It Out

Drama is at it again! For the first time in several years, drama is a class again on campus. This year drama is one of the most popular academic classes at C.P.H. Dialogues, plays, and commercials are just some of the activities done in drama classes. Drama offers an opportunity to meet students from all grades. Many students from drama classes are also members of Drama Club. This year Mrs. Martineau is teaching drama. She teaches and directs the drama classes and the Drama Club. Drama classes practice their lines for performances by separating into small groups to rehearse. It may take days to learn the lines to perfection, but that certainly pays off during the performances.

Rock, Rock, Till you drop. This third period drama class is really getting the moves as they do a snappy act with music.

Alien Voices

Teaches with patience. One of the newest teachers on campus this year is Ms. Donahoe. She teaches Spanish in room 502.

Practice makes perfect. In Spanish classes repetition is a great way to remember the answers.

Bingo by numbers. Sometimes the French class plays numbers bingo using French numbers. Robert Horn proudly holds up the franc he won in Mrs. Gagnon's class.

How do you do? French students often do dialogues as a classroom activity. In this dialogue someone is introducing a new friend to Arturo Gonzalez.

The Weather for

"There aren't any seasons in California." That's what the people who live on the east coast always say, but those of us who go to school in California know better.

It seems like the first week of school is always like being in an oven. The weather man must be against us, when he orders a Santa Ana condition for that time of year.

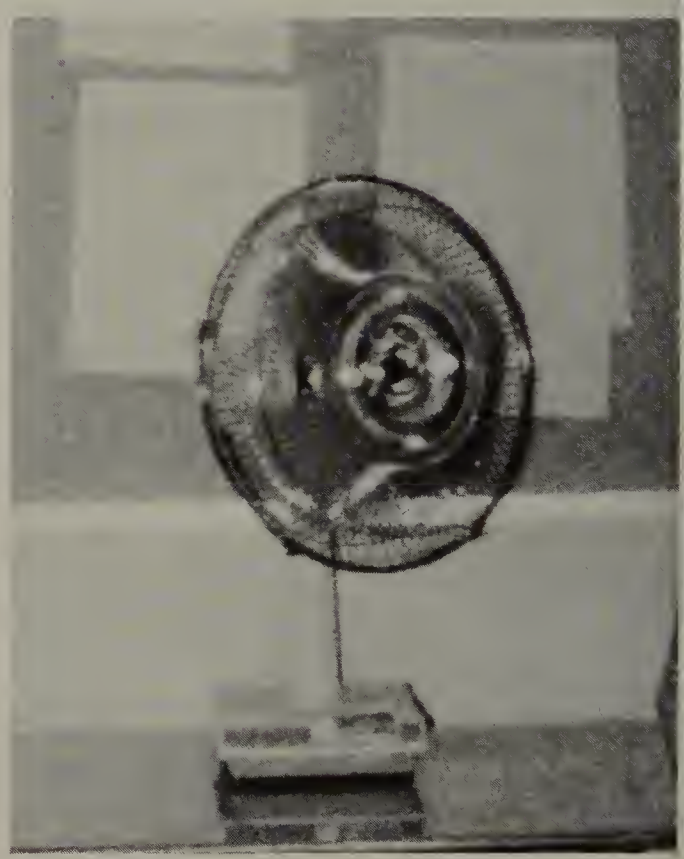
We also remember those mornings when we put on as many layers as possible to ward off the cold as we walked to school. We burned a lot of extra calories, between the walking and the shivering.

Some of us still refuse to own an umbrella, but every once in a while winter storms will drop water on us for weeks.

Anyone who thinks there are no seasons in California should spend a year with us at Troy. They would surely change their opinion.

Fancy free. Dressing appropriately for the very warm weather, Sandra Lopez shows off the new style of a mini-skirt.

Lukewarm letterman. Now we know that the letterman jacket is good for something other than just going to sports events. Kim Kauffman may be a little cold, but her spirit keeps her warm.



Baumgarten's breeze. The first few weeks of school brought the usual Santa Ana heatwave. Mrs. Baumgarten tried to provide a little relief with a portable fan.

Today . . .?

Cool it. We can see some of the fringe benefits associated with being a coach. Coach Holmgren can wear his coaching attire whenever the heat is on.

When it rains. Umbrellas are the exception rather than the rule on campus, but every once in a while a winter storm really dumps on us.

Insulated isolation. Winter in Chula Vista rarely comes, but when it does, Diane McCown will be ready. Lots of layers fight off the wind.

Short chic. A short rabbit jacket not only looks great on Lynette Larter, but it protects her from winter's cold air.

1. Perplexing program. As classwork, programs are written out before actually run on the computer. Junior Lisco Ray tries to figure out what went wrong.
2. Chipping In. During sixth period computer literacy Bernadette DelaCruz and Daniel Coronado talk over their work. Students work on flow charts once a month.
3. Time out. Finding a moment to himself, Mr. McCormack takes roll. He always seems to be swamped with questions from his students.
4. War Games? Ricky Kozachenko and Bryan Roberts look intently at the screen. Hopefully they haven't found access to any nuclear weapons.
5. Head of the Class. Computer science teacher Mrs. Head puts her own teaching to use as she types up her input. She also uses the computer in her Job Skills classes.

If words such as RAM, ROM, and software have no meaning to you, chances are you need a class in computer literacy. This is the second year that this course is being offered and is being taught by Mr. McCormack four periods a day. This course is geared mainly at juniors and seniors, and a computer science course is offered for the more advanced student. The computer science course is being taught by Mrs. Head. Seniors make up the majority of the class, as only juniors were allowed to take the computer literacy class last year.

The computer program was set up by three faculty members: Mr. Watt, Mr. McCormack, and Mrs. Head. Mrs. Head also teaches the Job Skills class which also uses the computers.

As the computer is becoming a major force of the future, students are preparing themselves by taking these classes. Universities and colleges are requiring that incoming students take computer literacy courses as computers are becoming involved in all careers. These classes are both educational and fun, and most students will agree that they will feel more confident in the future technological world.

Veni Vidi Vici

As a teacher at Castle Park, Dr. Keiser finds it very exciting. This year, he is an exchange teacher from Switzerland. Through the Fulbright Foundation, he is given the opportunity to travel thousands of miles with his family. However, at the end of the school year, he will be returning to Switzerland, because his trip can only endure one year.

One thing at Troy that Dr.Keiser finds very intriguing is the students. He says they work very fast, but are very superficial. They only seem to cover the surface of many situations and assignments. Also, he says the discipline is much more lenient than that of schools where he has taught.

Overall, we believe this year was a memorable experience for Dr. Keiser and his family.

1. Christmas competition. Along with wearing red, Dr. Keiser displays school spirit by decorating his door for Christmas.
2. Swiss pride. Briefly, Dr. Keiser poses proudly with one of his many posters from Switzerland.
3. Daily discussion. During class, Dr. Keiser is actively involved in a class discussion.

CLUBS

Paints, palette, and brushes. Designing the pep ribbons is one of the many duties of Tribune of Art, Elsa Wooverton.

A group of students that helped to plan the year was the Associated Student Body Cabinet. It is a group of 13 student representatives that make up the executive branch of the school's government. Each tribune has a certain duty to perform. As a group they are responsible for planning events such as Homecoming Week, that happens on campus. To be a part of the cabinet is not easy. It takes time and dedication.

A majority of the organizations at school have objectives concerning the school directly. One exception is in the Interact Club. Its main concern is to help the community in as many ways as possible. With Mr. Watt as the advisor, the club plans at least two projects that will assist the community. For example, an annual food drive is held and the food is distributed to the needy. The Interact Club is sponsored by the Rotary Club.

1. Leader of the pack. Mr. Watt helped the Interact Club get their start. He advised them on all projects.
2. Food for thought. As one of their community projects, the Interact Club held a canned food drive to provide food for the less fortunate.

Justice for All

Another form of government that students can get involved with besides ASB is Senate. These senators represent their class and are elected by this 3-step process: (1) petitioning for their election; (2) registered voters elect their candidates; and (3) swearing in the office. The function of Senate is to approve budgets, clubs, and any issues that involve the school. As representatives of the student body, they have formed 2 special committees within the Senate. The Campus Improvement committee which helps to maintain the campus' neat appearance, and the Constitution Committee.

Second Semester Senators: I. Aguayo, A. Alvarez, T. Castillo, K. Jeffrey, D. Jones, D. Larios, J. Malana, M. Morada, K. Nakano, I. Alvarez, R. DelaCruz, M. Paavola, T. Williams, S. Aguayo, N. Amaro, E. Atney, A. Damasco, B. DelaCruz, D. Fletcher, J. Mascarina, C. Perez, D. Ward.

Executive Council. Pres. Rachel Castillo, V. Pres. Janet Valle, and Sec. Cynthia Elefante head all Senate meetings by running the meetings and taking notes.

So help me God. As a step in becoming a senator, one must be sworn in. Arnold Damasco raises his right hand and hopes for the best.

Casting their vote. All registered voters have the chance to choose their class representatives. Tribune of Elections Judy Malana holds the election open.

First Semester Senators: I. Aguayo, B. Brommand, T. Castillo, D. Jones, J. Malana, K. Nakano, S. Albers, E. Atney, J. Mascarina, J. Pincek, C. Perez, D. Ward, E. Woolverton, C. Andaya, D. Aguayo, A. Caballero, A. Canciller, A. Farrales, T. Fountain.

Making Cents

One of the busiest clubs on campus is Trojan Knights, a service club. All are involved through the entire school year. They work in the ASB office, either selling school supplies or concessions. Other jobs are selling tickets for all activities including sports events and dances. Aside from their daily duties, they still find time to unite for parties or current happenings. Organizing the work load is Tribune of Service, Arthur Alvarez.

1. Half-time munchies. Students wait patiently at the concession stand during a break as the Trojan Knights fill their orders.
2. Bottoms up!! Natalie Ward fills up a cup with soda for an eager customer.
3. Down to business. Working during the busy lunch break, Yvonne Florez and Renee Carlson still find time to smile.

Sideline Support

To help boost the team's morale, these clubs often attend games and scream their lungs out. The Pep Club, headed by Tribune of Pep, Diane McCown, has been known for their crazy skits at assemblies, ear-piercing screams at games, and doing the can-can at football games.

The soccer club is headed by officers, Lety Cordero, Diana Galvan, Sonya Juarez, Laura Valenzuela, and Elena Jimenez. They support the soccer team by attending their games and decorating their lockers.

Cheek to cheek. With the romantic setting and soft music, Carol Quilantang and Gabe Diaz slow dance and gaze into each other's eyes.

In usual situations, a guy will ask a girl out for a date. The formal Girls League Dance gives the girl a chance to ask a special guy out. The club gets together and raises money by selling flowers and suckers. This year, the dance was held at the Kona Kai in Shelter Island. The evening will usually start out with dinner at a fancy restaurant and then on to the dance. At the dance, a queen and three princesses are chosen. The club was supervised this year by Mr. Jessen.

Playing Their Part

Making a great return, the Drama Club has become one of the best groups on campus. They put on three one act plays called "Fumed Oak", "Early Frost," and "Lovers and Other Strangers." With Mrs. Martineau as the club's advisor, the group has been working very diligently on the plays by working at lunch and after school. Whether it is painting sets, memorizing lines or rehearsing parts, the Drama Club rarely has a free moment. The club has become one of the most active on campus.

1. Final Touches. Stage makeup plays a big part when putting on plays. Malou Francel sits patiently as her hair is fixed.
2. Tending to her own knitting. The Drama Club has a variety of roles to play act. Jeri Forbes pretends to be the grandmotherly type.
3. Mimicking mutiny. While doing their skit, a few drama members pretend to overthrow their officers.

Director's chair. Finding a moment to relax from the hectic schedule, Mrs. Martineau, the club advisor, takes a moment to collect her thoughts.

A social club, Amer-Asian, encouraged people from different ethnic backgrounds to unite. Under the leadership of the officers, all the members took part in the many activities and fund raisers that went on throughout the year. There was the get-acquainted picnic which they had at the beginning of the school year, and the rest of their activities ranged from food sales to house meetings. This year's club's goal is to take a trip to Magic Mountain.

Making the grade and hopefully having it an A is what the California Scholarship Federation is all about. In order to be a member you must maintain a high grade point level. Each student must earn a minimum of 10 points or better in their academic classes. If a student is in CSF for four semesters, one being in the senior year, during graduation the member gets to wear a gold cord. For most students it takes hard work and endless studying. This means commitment, which is what helps each member in the future.

A very talented club on campus is the Art Guild. The club this year is led by Tribune of Art, Elsa Woolverton. The Art Guild members dedicate their time and talent to making the creative pep ribbons we see so many students wear, and they also decorate the campus with posters to get the students spirited.

Pictured at Right Are: Back Row: M. Morada, E. Woolverton, S. Albers, D. Hibi. Front Row: Mrs. Miller, S. Koenig, L. Vaughn, A. Lopez, Z. Sonia, L. Greene, M. Coates, A. Damasco, F. Selgado, J. Johnson, D. Jones, R. Charfauros, M. Cuzak, N. Amaro, L. Luna.

Getting it right. President Elsa Woolverton looks over the pep ribbons as Susan Albers prints them up.

Ready to wear. One of the projects that Art Guild does is the spirit ribbons.

1983-84 has been a very successful year for Varsity pepleaders. After winning straight superiors, plus a trophy, and bringing home the spirit stick from camp, they came to school with winning confidence that was projected to the crowds in their performances. They participated in pep rallies, football games, assemblies, and much, much, more.

Time and effort was put into making football run-through posters and getting the team fired up to play a game. Not to mention the countless hours of practice to get a cheer or stunt just perfect. Even though it was so much hard work, this year will bring many unforgettable memories to mind.

1. Unity. Varsity Pep moves in unity at the end of their hello cheer.
2. On Your Mark, Get Set, Go. Bridget waits patiently for her cue when the band plays the 'Fight On' song.
3. Here We are. As usual, the Varsity Cheerleaders are together to show that Trojans Pride is number one.
4. Alright Trojans. Pam Rosinski, Libby Bryan, and Judy Malana watch the award-winning band perform their half-time show.
5. Shake That Skirt. Lisa, Karin, Pam, and Edwina work at getting the crowd involved.

Letterettes Stride

This year's letterettes definitely spell out excellence. Their one-of-a-kind style makes other groups strive to be just like them. The routines, the uniforms, the crowd reactions, only tell you one thing — this is Castle Park Letterettes! Led By Captain Michelle Guda, Co-Capt. Tracy Seiler, and Lieut. Erin Hoye their originality and excitement delight the crowds at every performance. Among their accomplishments is a 58 out of 60 at the All-Western Band Review in Long Beach. Even though individual competitions are few, every performance is a victory, whether it be an assembly, football game, indoor, etc. This unit is only one of the parts that makes up the legend of the Pride of the South Bay.

1. On our way. Letterettes lead the way of the Trojan Guard Band.
2. Missing link. Anna's letter is missing, so it's hard to read the name.
3. Trojan pride. Mira makes a fantastic first impression.
4. Take a bow. A line of letters provides some excitement at the Homecoming assembly.
5. Myra Cotoner, Celi Tirado, Ana Plandor, Capt. Michelle Guda, Lisa Valdivia, Tracy Seiler, Tammy Rollins, Erin Hoye.
6. Cheryl Davis, Lupita Lozano, Olivia Amador, Marissa Flores, Edna Rivera, Leti Valdivia.
7. A proud face. Leti Valdivia awaits at ease for the call to attention.
8. Letterette leaders. Co-Captain, Tracy Seiler, Captain, Michelle Guda, and Lieutenant, Erin Hoye.

To: Domael
you've been a great friend through this whole semester in Drivers Ed. Especially at the time when Marisa and I got into our big argument you were quite helpful then. Domael, promise me to never stop being my friend and don't change but if you do any way, I won't stop liking you. Domael have a great summer and I hope to see you next year.
Love your friend always Lily Silva 6/6/84

Through their outstanding efforts, this year's tall flag corps has proved to be very successful. The work and dedication really pays off when Captain Toni Raagas presents them with a sweepstakes trophy, as the one they earned at Mission Viejo Band Review. Among their other accomplishments are: 3rd place at Colombus Day Parade, 2nd place at Fiesta de la Luna, and a near perfect score at the All Western Band Review. Their sparkling uniforms, intense routines, and tall flag spirit have made them a step above the rest. The 18 girls are also a fraction of the "Pride of the South Bay."

1. In competition. Julie Moyer adds to a dynamic sweepstakes performance at Mission Viejo.
2. Exhilarated enthusiasm. In the formation area, tall flags display smiles, with ready to win confidence.
3. Helping hands. Turi Leasure and Irene Alvarez put glitter on Elizabeth Concisio's hair as final preparations.
4.. Superb snap. Very proudly, Rachel Fernandez performs at a football pep assembly.
5. Looking good. In unity, the dazzling corps provides a unique and spectacular performance.

Musical

The title, Pride of the South Bay, relates to only one group — the Castle Park Trojan Guard Band. With almost a doubled size, the band has done nothing but get better. A first place at the All-Western Band Review and many other awards, has brought Drum Major, Dean Temporal into the spotlight many times this year. His leadership and dedication have made him, as well as the band, number one. Under the guidance of Director, Del Bangle, and Assistant Director, Eric Mabrey, the band once again has earned the reputation of being awesome. To add to their many other awards, they have received a first place at Columbus Day, first place at Fiesta De La Luna, second place at Mission Viejo, and a second place at All-Western.

Through the years, the Trojanettes have been known for their pride. This year was no exception. The feeling of knowing you're number one was reflected in every girls' face at all performances. Capt. Delia Diaz has brought the corp together as a performing unit with the help of Co-Captain Dorothea Berezny, and Lieutenants Gail Barros, Violet Meredith, and Norma Villa. Hours of hard work and dedication bring on the perfection known as Trojanettes. This year hasn't been all hard work. There were lots of fun times too. Initiation, football games, movies, and of course, parades. Among their accomplishments are second place at the Columbus Day Parade and a first place at the Mission Viejo Band Review.

1. A modest statement.
2. The Trojanette's fearless leaders Lt. Norma, Lt. Violet, Capt. Delia, Lt. Gail, Co-Capt. Dorth.
3. The Awesome Corp. of '84: First Row: Elizabeth Vera, Michelle Waite, Peggy Smigal, Kathy Smith, Chandra Hamilton, LeighAnne Gauger, Arlene Damasco, Alicia Vera, Maricela Vera, Gloria Gonzales, Elizabeth Castro, Lisa Fox, Corina Camacho. Second Row: Adriana Gonzales, Cindy Fernandez, Rosa Cuara, Eva Escamilla, Catalina Cuara, Sonia Nunez, Theresa Lewis, Cruz Lozaya, Dolly Mitra, Diane Vera. Third Row: Danielle Driscoll, Tracy Fountain, Irma Orozco. Fourth Row: Cindy Golingan, Monica Nunez, Marci Daos. Fifth Row: Terry Rockwell, Martha Carbajal, Patty Vargas. Sixth Row: Alba Lutz, Alma Enriquez, Denise Sase. Seventh Row: Norma Villa, Gail Barros, Violet Meredith. Eighth Row: Delia Diaz, Dorothea Berezny.
4. In deep thought. Catalina Cuara & Lisa Fox wait to begin what was a great performance.
5. The perfection known as Trojanettes. At the first performance the corp already looks great.
6. Fabulous Finish. Though last in line, Trojanettes show a grand finale.
7. Performance Preparation. Gail Barros and Cruz Lozoya fix last minute touches for Homecoming.
8. In the Beginning. The birth of the 83-84 corp began at initiation.

The Castle Park High Grupo Folklorico is very active and well organized under the direction of Carlos Sontoya. The grupo is divided into beginning and advanced dancers groups. It takes the students a lot of time and effort to become good performers. They perform at schools, civic and cultural events, sharing the Mexican heritage with others. They usually receive donations for their performances which help pay for their dresses. A dress could run up to $250.00 each.

The main purpose of the Images Club is to publish the Images Literary Art Magazine. The literary board, which is made up of students and teachers chooses the poems, essays, and stories to use. This year's theme is "Unicorns" the symbols of relative imagination. The club members get the creative writing classes involved, too, and everything that goes into the magazine consists of student work. The club advisor, Mrs. Guilfoyle, assists the president, Danita Pruitt, and the editor, Laura Caverty, in producing an outstanding publication.

Speculum 1984: Putting Pieces Together

Through the guidance of our Editor-in-Chief, Arthur Alvarez, and our advisor, Miss Brownell, the Speculum Staff worked hard to make this year's annual style different. The changes in the annual went along with the many changes within our school. This year's staff, made up mostly of new members, spent lots of time creating the annual. Now with all the pieces put together, this year's annual staff brings you Volume 21 of the Speculum.

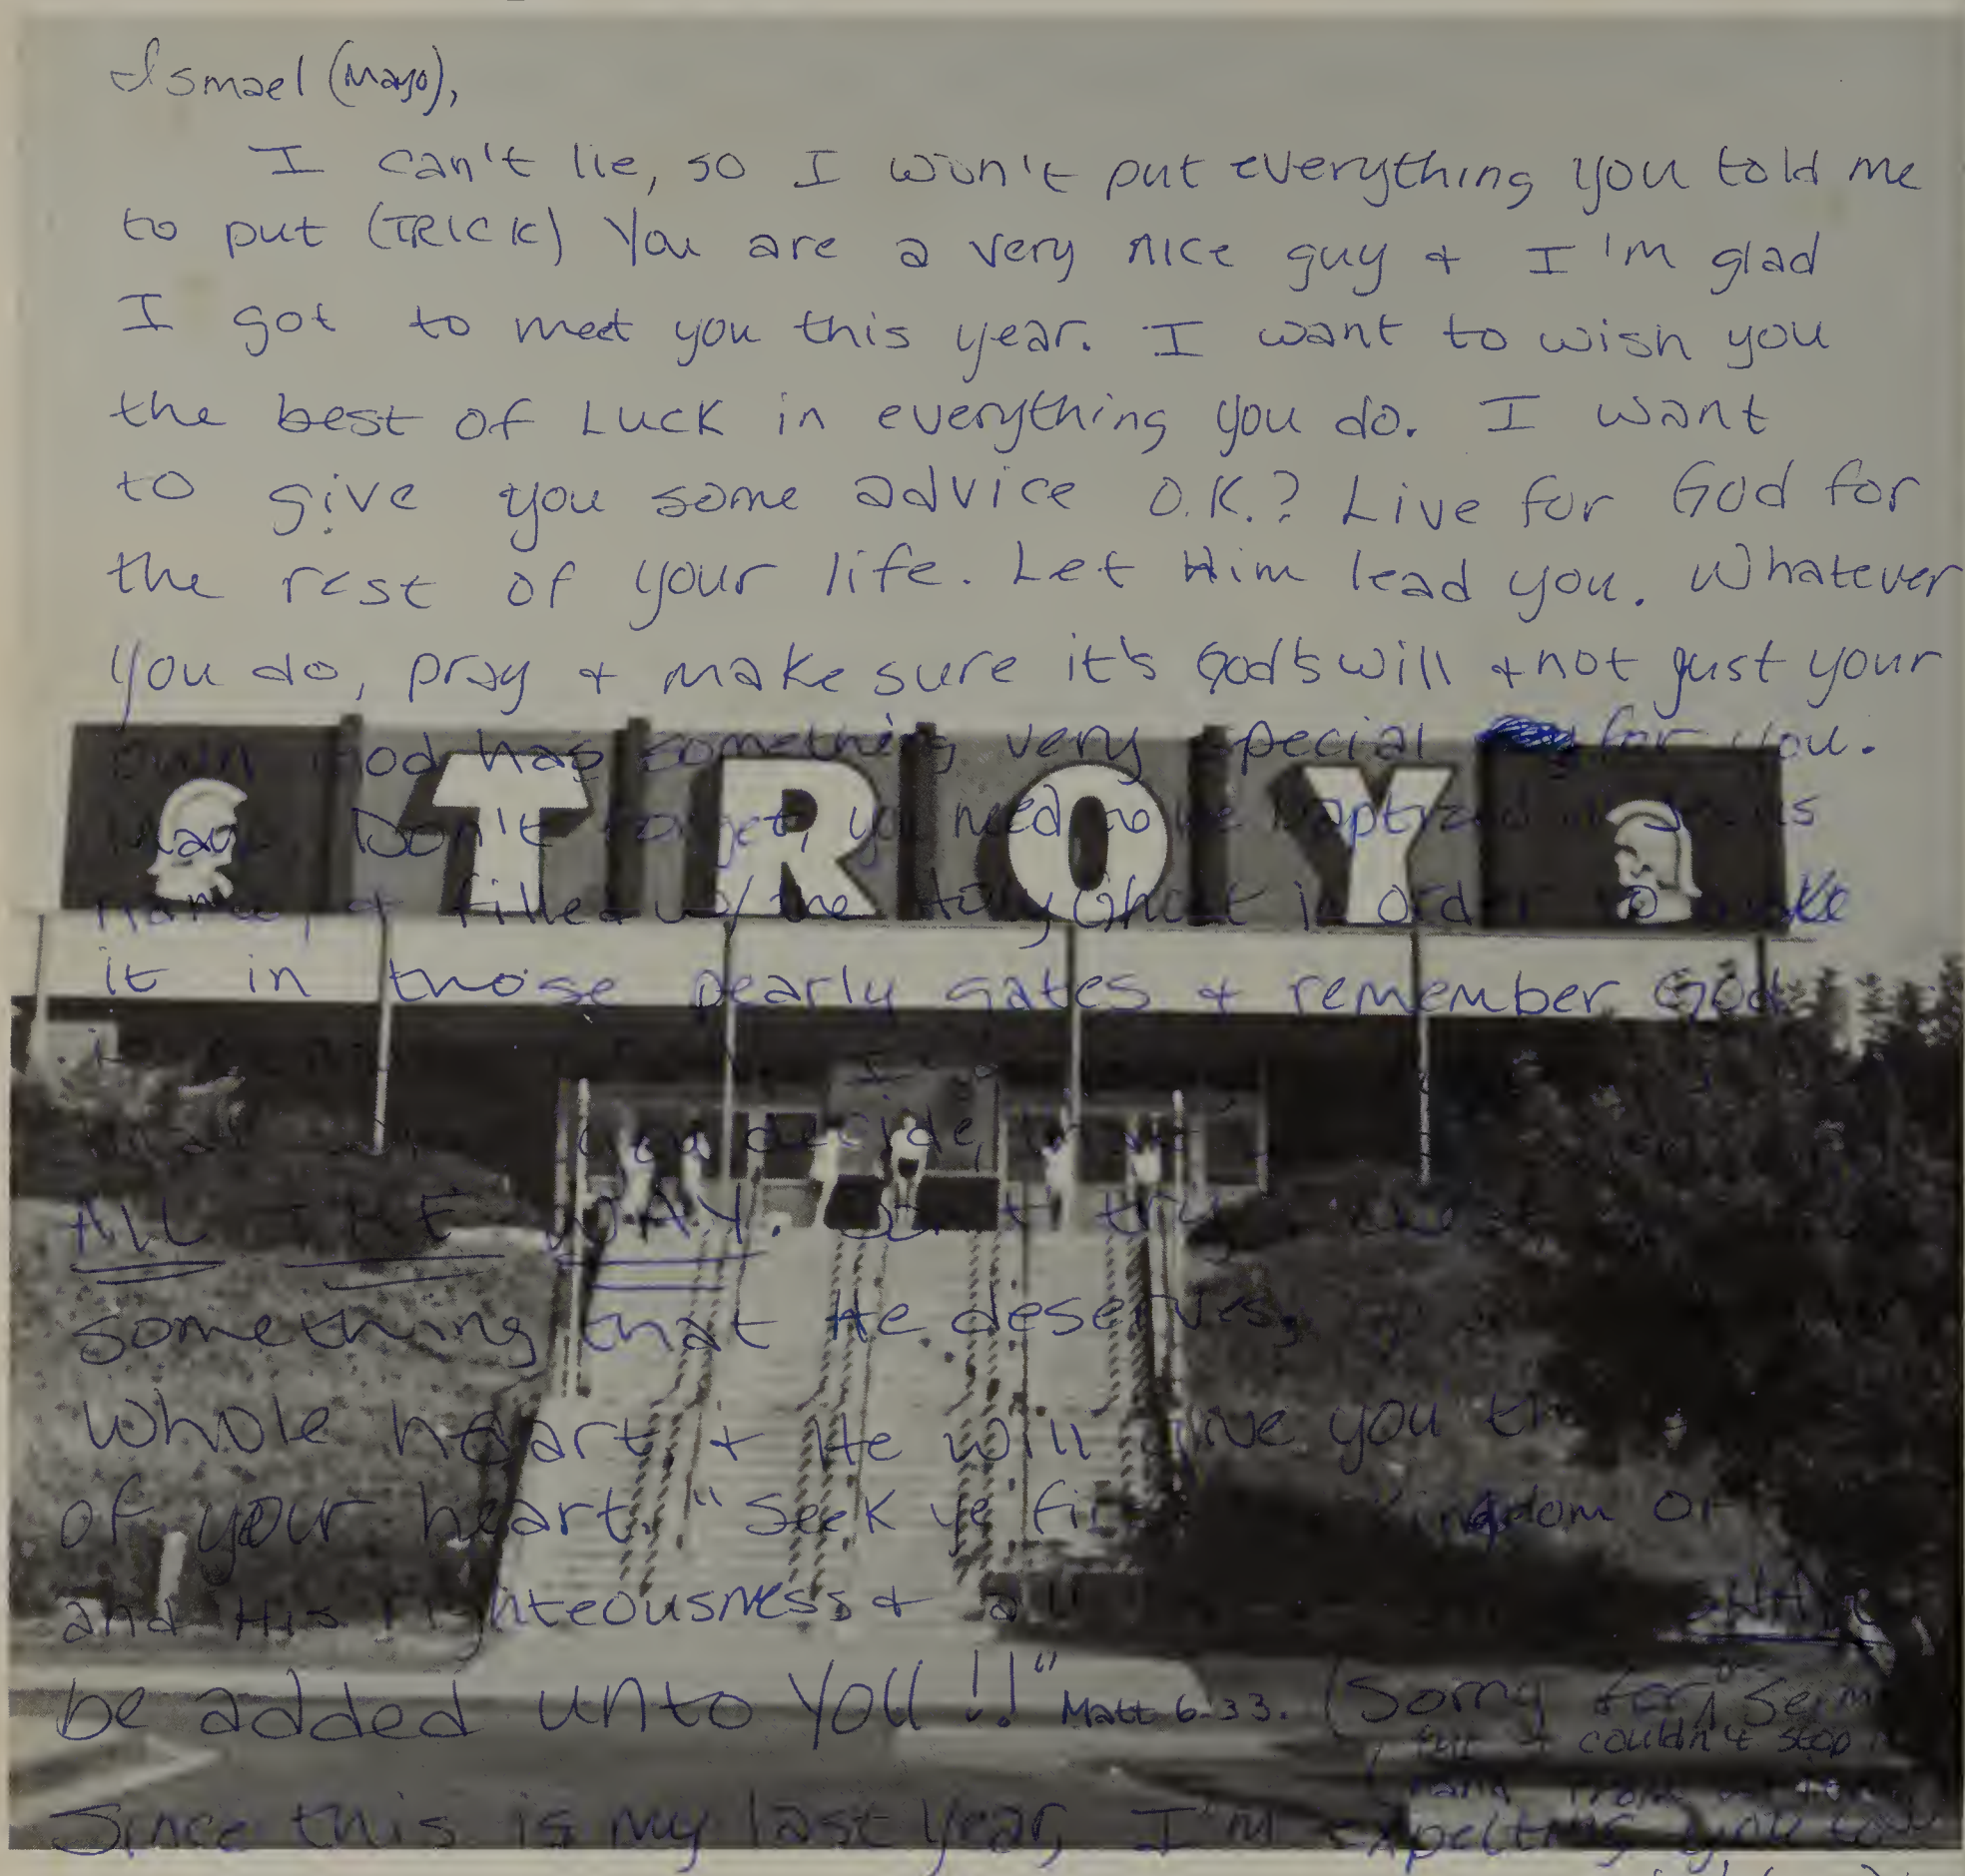
Finding Our Place in the Future



Ismael (Mayo),

I can't lie, so I won't put everything you told me to put (TRICK) You are a very nice guy + I'm glad I got to meet you this year. I want to wish you the best of Luck in everything you do. I want to give you some advice O.K.? Live for God for the rest of your life. Let Him lead you. Whatever you do, pray + make sure it's God's will + not just your own. God has something very special for you. Mayo, Don't forget you need to be baptized in Jesus name, + filled w/ the Holy Ghost in order to make it in those pearly gates + remember God [illegible] ALL THE WAY. [illegible] something that He deserves, [illegible] whole heart + He will give you the [illegible] of your heart. "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His Righteousness + all these things shall be added unto You!!" Matt 6:33. (Sorry for a sermon but I couldn't stop [illegible] Since this is my last year, I'm expecting you to [illegible]

Shed the Light When I'm gone. Be sure to witness. A Little Song go like this "Hide it under a bushel, NO! I'm going to let it SHINE." (L)20-0918

Undoubtedly, we all managed to complete a year full of doubts and fears. We strived to conquer all setbacks, which at first we thought would never end. At last we pieced the year together by overcoming the many changes of the past to the present. For the seniors, it was a final year full of excitement, anguish, and relief. For underclassmen this was just a stepping stone to those ahead.

One thing we will all soon face is the future, and the many problems that will accompany it. After graduation, we will all possess the qualities necessary to fulfill our greatest desires. Whether or not we succeed, we will all have the memories of the past to enhance our lives.

Well I'm running out of room. Hope to see you in the Future. Love in Christ, Y[illegible] pg 33, 41 6/8/84

Cigarette sensation. In their own space, many students enjoy a cigarette while listening to their favorite music in the smoking section.

Though cigarettes are very dangerous, smokers will not kick the cigarette habit. Whether filtered, lights, or slim cigarettes, consumers have a wide assortment from which to choose from.

On campus, there is a smoking section reserved for smokers. If it's before school, after school, at nutrition break, or during lunch, this small space is always set aside for their convenience.

"OUR GANG - CLIQUE OF '84"

Remember . . . Bob's Big Boy and the huge tip we left the waitress . . . Chippendales dudes . . . Raymond at the CPO Mess : . . "somebody" scratching her head . . . eating on the grass at lunch . . . racing with the dudes at the Fun for All . . . trying on dresses at Bridal World . . . Charlotte Russe, the Broadway, and EVERYWHERE . . . birthday doughnuts . . . dry pretzels . . . "ripping off" food from the Ala Carte . . . Sweetwater game . . . Milisa's nice clothes and our gorgeous scuzzy outfits . . . Girl's Leagues candidates . . . the red dress . . . HELIUM . . . old faithful Torjan 69 club with the head chairman . . . Come doughnuts . . . Freefare (what hunks — they winked at us! Spaz attack) . . . Kleenex . . . Otay Lake . . . 2 piece bathing suit — totally sexy . . . ditching school . . . breakfast at the Family House and the man with the harem . . . Senior Socials . . . eating fried rice out of the bowl in the dark . . . leaving smelly breakfasts in the Fashion Valley parking lot . . . rap sessions (hip-hop) . . . the Haunted House . . . the "throbbing Car" . . . hey, do you know where we can get some batteries??? . . . Annabelle Davimurph and I's like a table for 5 . . . Chelle's empty locker . . . Hey George we never did have our first meeting . . . July 8, 1983 . . . Lani getting attacked by a killer water balloon . . . Milisa picking off all the mushrooms and anchovies and tomatoes and sausage . . . the copy cat . . . Oh god, we didn't study . . . "It's cool" . . . centerfolds . . . cruisin' till we got lost . . .

. . . Gary and Taco Bell . . . Those sexy shorts on Milisa's antenna . . . "We all got shades" . . . Slurpee-mania . . . Dragging 805 . . . Theresa, did you just run over a ladder??? . . . We can "turn out anyone" . . . yes, we can dance like the people in "Thriller" . . . Spaz, Spaz. Spaz, . . . Eb-love is definitely blind . . . Patty, the nomads, "We're surrounded but we can't give up" . . . spotted pants . . . Who threw the orange at Theresa's annual??? Who threw the m&m at the nomad??? Who hit Darrell in the head with the magazine?? . . . cold Lani, too sly for Merle Norman . . . luv those Chinese fire drills — where's the cop? . . . Hey Milisa, 91X is looking 4U! And not us ? Aw man!!! . . . . . Harriet let's hear it for V-4 . . . shishkabob . . . HolyMoly . . . "What will you have dear?" . . . Let's tie pink crepe paper like bows and put them on the cars . . . smooch . . . Lani's Larry . . . t-bears . . . David Painter's "Noralee's my name, stealing purses is my game" . . . Hey Hopee . . . "cut me loose" "Bella" "oldies"
Remember all the great times at C.P.J. in A.S.B.!! Boy we have some excellent memories huh!! Plus these radical times at C.P.H. I'll never forget all those! Walking our dogs in the rain, writing on the A.S.B. lockers, CADA, Mr. Lard, etc. You've really been a special friend! Thanks for all the great memories. We best make more!

To the best sister any person could have. Love always,
you're a good friend too!
Jennifer

I just wanted all my friends at C.P.H.S., especially Susie Smalling, to know that they helped to make my year in the U.S. a valuable, rewarding and very happy experience and I will remember them always. Although I love my country, England, I have grown to love America and the American people very much and one day I hope to return. Also, I'm happy because this year has confirmed my desire to follow a career in acting.
THANKS GUYS — Alexandra Holmes

"Suzie Smalling's accomplishments"

Not turning in accomplishments on time; Vars. Tennis - 9, 10, 11; Drama Club - 9, 10, 12; Yearbook - 11; Student Senate - 11, Varsity Lettermen - 10.

Goal: To someday win a second place academy award under the terrific actress Alex Holmes; and to remain SCUM QUEEN for the end of my term along with my fabulous SCUM COURT including Chris Cusick and Jocelyn Grim. (didn't mean to embarass you girls!)

And to all my seventh grade friends from Castle Park Jr, it's great to be back home again!!

Best of Luck you AWESOME Class of 84!!

"Because of you, Time has revealed"
That 4 yrs. of friendship has taught me to understand & love you in this special way.Re:first time in front of A.S.B.no formal intro. just a friendly "Hi", then those time at the Lib. tables all that tongue, talking on the phone during your II per. During the summer W/ Marc & talking 3X a day & visting my prac; then you said"later" to Penguin & went on to TWERP!!all the times you came to see him but instead saw Kymo,Alex,Kenny and also Jr.. Oh my God! How did you put up w/all that?! All the beachtimes, lunches(Ray)& dinners we spent together,the concerts & especially the times you sat & listen to me, all that nagging!!Thanxs for understanding...thanx's for the sweater,wasn't your B-day gift neat?!& didn't you love the cake at the sweetheart dance?! Don't forget about Ms.Eva!(☺). I want you to know you're my dearest & sweetest best friend, anyone could ever have & you know it! 4 yrs...Lady "J" has brought us times to remember & little to forget:Nick & Black Stud!(☺).But most of all this is dedicated to You though there is no letter that could ever tell all that we did but I just wanted you to know that I honestly hope we become even closer friends(though I doubt if we could become closer)You're very special,though I know I was never in the same league as Marc or Penguin but to know that I was your best friend is to be in a league by itself, no matter what you do, you'll always have a special place in my heart,that no one will ever take. God Bless You Always & love ya forever.

Best Friends Forever,
Nagu...Caresalot

ALLIGATOR WOMAN,
What a trip we're back to CP. Remember all the great times we've had? Track, pushing each other, getting up at 9:00,meets,my lucky Allen pin,watching cuties (John & Armando), dances, parties, football games, 3-tickle pink, a case, your truck w/cancer, playing quarters, bathroom trips, day before the prelimes,"biggest trip" Palomar, her awful laugh, fashionable, RED shoes, radical&not RAD, your salt&trys, my powder donuts, our talks about Richard & Tony! Thanx for all the memories!!!!! JIRAFA

Jirafa,
Well we had our times at both schools. You and me ... The example setters; restroom keepers. Futher muck the year is over,where did it go? Up in that cloud of smoke?
The memories will never leave us. Remember...1st meet,Invitationals,bus trips,football games,Southern Comfort,Tickle Pink,fingernail polish,"sick chick", "Purple", "red shoes", "This way girls", N.B.'s, John Paul...what a babe! And the best for last-Richard and Tony, The Prom, Grad Night...We will never forget. 84 can't forget us! Thanks for everything. ALLY

Hey Boo-boo,
From little kids to now we have had some pretty rad times! As far back as your swimming pool to the Prom-what a time! RSL every Friday,votka,7 segreams ha ha,la salina, san felipe,buttercup all too radical. The harbor,piggy back rides. Summers-"the Ace",the beach,the condos-the postcards of us. All that Tickle Pink,my driving,Micheal-that two timer(we love him anyway!, speeders,olas,greenery,live and be merry! Our dog named spike,"I'm white"-radical. We will have more times,and 7h lives! Ismael,

Hi! Hey you know what even though I'm been screaming at you sometimes, it has still been good knowing you. Even though sometimes you act like an idiot! Trix! I'm just kidding. But you are kind of weird, but then everybody has to have some crazyness in them or then you have a problem! Hey you know what, I'm not going to be here to bug you next year so this is going to be a dead school without me. Ofcourse because NOBODY can live without me! But what can I say. Oh well you know what I'll be leaving now. Be good you around, good luck next year without me!

Fernando Gigi Jaggs (Alma Delia Macias)
